Midterm Evaluation

Course coordinator:
Kenneth Wärnmark

Course representatives:
Aleksander Sjörén, Floriane Baussière (secretary)

Self-study
There is more lecture time than in the intermediate course which is nice. At first, some students were surprised by the self-study but they got used to it. There is a friendly atmosphere, no one is scared to ask questions to each other or Kenneth. In general, the students like the course.

Exercises
It would be nice not to have the exercise sessions two days in a row. Kenneth wished more people would help solve the exercises as it is a good training for everyone and it is nice to get a feedback.

Labs
All the students finished their lab work two weeks earlier than scheduled. People wanted to get more out of the lab work than they got. Note to Kenneth: increase the lab load. The first lab was too easy for the course and not needed. The extra experiment (fifth lab) had an interesting reaction. Maybe it could be inserted in the four mandatory experiments and the first lab could be taken out. It would be interesting to have an experiment with more steps. It would have been nice to have an introduction on how to work under N₂ conditions. The introduction to TLC was not needed.
